

Dear Arvato Hiring Team,

My name is Varvara Lazarenko, and I would like to express my strong interest in the ASPIRE Traineeship starting in September 2025. With a strong passion for logistics and leadership, I am eager to further develop my skills in a dynamic organization like Arvato – where innovation and continuous improvement are central to everything you do.

I am a 2024 graduate of the Medical Biology Master's program with a specialization in Science, Management & Innovation (SMI) from Radboud University. This interdisciplinary track allowed me to develop a solid foundation in innovation strategy, stakeholder engagement, and data-driven decision-making. My academic training covered topics such as market research, digital health, health economics, and value propositions. For my thesis, I evaluated the added value of home telemonitoring technologies, working closely with elderly patients and medical professionals. This experience strengthened my ability to communicate across disciplines and manage complex projects with real-world implications.

In addition to my academic background, my professional experience will be a significant advantage for this position. In my roles as a Junior Research Assistant and Clinical Research Organization Assistant, I contributed to multidisciplinary projects that demanded analytical thinking, cross-functional collaboration, and practical problem-solving. These roles taught me how to break down complex challenges, manage ambiguity, and deliver actionable solutions – skills that are essential for leadership in logistics and supply chain environments.

What draws me most to the ASPIRE program is its rotational structure and the opportunity to explore different management directions. I am especially enthusiastic about the Account Management and Business Support Management tracks, as they align closely with my interest in client strategy, business optimization, and cross-functional collaboration.

I bring a hands-on mentality, an analytical mindset, and a collaborative spirit. I'm excited to gain real responsibility from day one, learn from experienced colleagues, and contribute to projects that help shape the future of Arvato.

Thank you for considering my application. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute to your team and grow within your organization. Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions.

Warm regards,
Varvara Lazarenko
