

Dear Soil physics and Land Management group (SLM),

My name is Varvara Lazarenko, and I would like to express my interest in applying for the position of Management/Office Assistant.

I am a recent graduate of the Medical Biology master's program with a specialization in Science, Management & Innovation (SMI) from Radboud University. I am passionate about improving science, healthcare and education systems through sustainable innovations and research, making it as cost-effective as possible. That is why I am excited about this opportunity to assist the SLM management team with administrative tasks and create a nice positive vibe within the team while maintaining organized workflow.

My academic background and professional experience equip me with a solid foundation for this role. Having finished a bachelor's in Biology and a master's in Medical Biology, I gained extensive knowledge not only within my field, but also about university environment. As a Junior Research Assistant at the Faculty of Biology and an assistant at a Contract Research Organization, I acquired substantial experience in writing academic papers and reports, preparing clinical documentation, project management, and ensuring compliance with client requirements across different projects. Diligence, attention to details, high organizational and communication skills were a must-have at these positions.

Furthermore, during my SMI track, I collaborated with fellow students and organizations in Nijmegen (including the municipality of Nijmegen) on real-life projects such as "HTA of a Medical Guidance App for International Students in the NL" and "A Shared Ownership Model of the Green Corridor." My master's thesis at HAN University of Applied Sciences on the added value of home telemonitoring technology enriched my experience with stakeholder collaboration even further. Moreover, the thesis gave me experience of conducting some parts of the thesis in Dutch, which further fuelled me to actively learn the language.

In summary, my diverse skills, combined with my comprehensive education and various professional experiences, position me as a strong candidate for the Management/Office Assistant role.

Thank you for considering my application. Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions.

Warm regards,
Varvara Lazarenko
